

Committee on Right of Way is Making Progress

While the work of the right of way committee for the Strahorn railroad has been somewhat retarded of late by the absence of some of the members of the committee from the city, nevertheless steady progress is being made. Considerable attention has been directed recently to the securing of deeds from non-residents. In addition to the names of those published heretofore as donating rights of way, deeds from the following non-residents have been procured:

James H. Driscoll, Ashland, Oregon.
Rose E. Younger, Ontario, Oregon.
International Harvester Co., of Chicago, Illinois.
Butte Falls Lumber Co., Butte Falls, Oregon.
Emma P. Holland, Riverside, Calif.
A. W. Brown, Cassa Grande, Ariz.
B. G. McDougall, Oakland, Calif.
Recently Attorney W. S. Wiley made a trip into California, and found

Lottery is a Regular Institution in Brazil

By H. B. Robertson
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
RIO DE JANEIRO, Sept. 15.—(By Mail)—With two hundred and fifty thousand imaginary dollars one may build a fairly good air-castle; and the Brazilian is a great air-castle architect. His material, always at hand, is the lottery ticket. The lottery in Brazil is as much an institution as the daily newspaper or the milkman, just as it once was more or less so in the United States.

A Spanish immigrant woman bought a lottery ticket as she walked down the gang plank of the steamer that brought her to the new world. When she arrived in the city she found that she had won the big prize of the day's drawing. She returned to Spain on the same ship, richer than her wild dreams.

Pedro Silveira, a working man, dreamed that he was to win the Christmas lottery prize. His dream told him the winning number. He sold all his possessions to obtain the number. His extraordinary faith was communicated to his neighbors and friends. The day of the drawing he was accompanied to the "chapel of chance" by thousands of friends and curious who had heard his story. As the six little girls spun the fateful wheels the number that turned up was not that held by Pedro. Pedro died in an asylum.

Extravagant hope and tragedy is the story of the lottery in Brazil. The rich Brazilian buys his lottery ticket as he takes his morning coffee—by habit. The poor Brazilian saves and scrimps and often goes in debt for his "chance." One wins every day. Hundreds of thousands never win.

Although several states have their own lotteries the big game is the Federal lottery, operated by an anonymous corporation on a government concession. The government supervises the drawings and sale of tickets and takes five per cent of the receipts. There is a drawing every week day with special prizes for holidays, ranging from $15,000 to $250,000. American money. The prices of the tickets are fixed in accordance with the day's prize—from 25 cents to $10.

DONARTS RETURN FROM LONG KANSAS TRIP

Good old persimmons, black walnuts, acorns like many persons picked in the woods in the fall back in the old home state, chestnuts and hazelnuts, besides a big coffee bean, were brought back to Klamath by Charles Donart when he returned a few days ago with Mrs. Donart from a visit in Kansas.

Mr. and Mrs. Donart were raised in Kansas, and returned to visit it for the first time in many years. They enjoyed the visit among their relatives and old acquaintances, but not for a moment did either feel that they wanted to move away from this country.
